CHECKS ARE GIVEN OUT TO WINNERS

Farmers and Merchants Were More Than Pleased With the Success of Corn Show.

PRAISE FOR COUNTY AGENT

Exhibits Are Quickly Removed From the Buhner Garage Where the Initial Exhibit Was Held.

The Buhner Garage, South Chestnut street, was the scene of a rapid transformation Saturday afternoon. Within thirty minutes after the announcement was made that the first annual Jackson county corn show was closed all the entries were removed, the booths taken down, the stands wrecked and moved away and the building appeared again as it did the first part of the week. The decorations were taken down and laid away for another show. County Agent Cobb said the manner in which the show closed was one of the best features of the entire week. Usually it is difficult to get the growers to remove their entries immediately but on Saturday most of them were at the building to claim their corn or were represented so there was no delay.

When the corn show closed another eventful and successful enterprise for Seymour and Jackson county was history. An attempt was made to keep a record of the daily attendance and while it was impossible to keep an absolutely accurate record a close estimate can be given. The figures are in the possession of the county agent and he will make an estimate in several ways before announcing the total attendance. The county agent reports the attendance at such exhibits to the extension department of Purdue.

This is done so that at the end of the year the department at the state agricultural college is in a position to know about how many farmers were reached during that period. Records are also kept of the attendance at the smaller meetings and farmers' institutes and reported to the extension department.

The farmers throughout the county were greatly pleased with the results of the corn show and it is assured that another will be held next year. It is also assured that the number of entries will be larger and that the attendance will increase from year to year. The farmers are urging that they become annual events here and believe that through them Jackson county can become known throughout the state as a county of the best quality of seed corn.

Several additional features are to be worked out for the second show. It will be held about the same time as the one this year as it gives the growers an opportunity to select the best of their fields before the heavy frosts come. The winners of the cups are justly proud of them and Henry Lucas, of Brownstown township, who won sweepstakes, will try and score another winning next year. However, a number of farmers are known to have an eye on the premium and will try and capture the honor for themselves.

Christmas Fund

On account of the community interest centering in the Municipal Christmas tree the Republican will not conduct its Christmas fund this year. Any surplus from the Municipal tree expense will be applied to the work among the needy of the city in providing special Christmas cheer. This makes the usual fund contributed through the Republican unnecessary as a separate fund, and all contributions should be made to the Municipal tree committee.

Contributions for the committee may be left at the Republican office if more convenient for the donors and all such amounts will be turned over to the committee.

for the show, said that it was one of the best "first shows" he ever attended—and far above the average. He complimented County Agent Cobb very highly for his industry and executive ability and said that in him the farmers had an experienced and capable agent.

The winners have been getting their checks which were written out at the Seymour National Bank. Several of the growers found the show profitable to them not only from the experience and information they obtained but also from the monetary standpoint.

GLEN BLEVINS DIES FROM INJURIES IN THE HEAD

Trespasser on B. & O. Southwestern
Train Meets Death in Wreck—
Small Rod Pierced Skull.

Traffic on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad which was blocked by the wreck at Willow Valley, was resumed about 6 o'clock Saturday night after the Seymour and Washington emergency crews had worked throughout the afternoon. Several passenger trains east-bound were delayed because of the smashup.

Five cars were dented and demolished. The wreck was caused by a broken wheel. Three of the cars were loaded with merchandise and two with iron pipe.

Glen Blevins, of Washington, who was fatally injured in the wreck, died during the afternoon. His head was pierced with a small rod which entered the skull close to one ear. He and A. W. Fields, also of Washington, were trespassing on the train. They were returning to Washington. Blevins was a civil engineer and wore a good suit of clothes under his overalls and jacket.

COUNTY ATTORNEY BARNES REELECTED FOR A YEAR

Local Attorney Chosen for Another Term at the Regular Session of the Commissioners.

Seba A. Barnes, of this city, was re-elected today by the board of county commissioners as county attorney for the ensuing year. The election took place at the regular meeting of the commissioners. Very little business was transacted at the session. No contracts for bridges or new gravel roads were awarded. The usual claims for county work were allowed.

All bills against Seymour Concert Band in connection with the recent minstrel show must be turned in by Wednesday evening. Hand to A. Steinwedel.

LOCAL GRANGE TO BE REPRESENTED

Many Members in Jackson County to Attend Annual State Meeting at Columbus Next Week.

GOV. RALSTON WILL SPEAK

Addresses Will Also be Given by W.
A. Hays, State Lecturer and State Master L. A. Wright.

The Seymour Grange will be well represented at the forty-fifth annual meeting of the Indiana State Grange to be held at Columbus December 13-16, inclusive. Many are making arrangements to go to Columbus on Monday and be present for all the sessions. Others will spend one or more days there. The local grange will be represented by County Agent and Mrs. A. D. Cobb, of Brownstown, who have been elected as delegates.

An excellent program has been arranged and the attendance from all parts of the state is expected to be large. The Indiana Grange has been growing in membership rapidly during the last few years and many of the movements which it has originated and advocated have been successfully completed.

On Monday night Governor Ralston is scheduled to give an address. The public is invited to this meeting. Following the address there will be a social hour.

On Tuesday morning the Grange will open in full form. The reports of the credentials and standing committees will be read following which there will be a roll call by counties for resolutions for reference to committees without debate. On Tuesday afternoon another open meeting will be held. An address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Volland, of Columbus, President Way of the Chamber of Commerce and Masters of the Columbus and Clifty granges. A response will be given by W. A. Hays, state lecturer, and following this the annual address by L. H. Wright, worthy state master, will be delivered. A business session will follow the open meeting. The executive committee will report at night.

The degree work will be given at the Wednesday sessions. On Thursday morning the standing committee will report and in the afternoon the detailed work of the session will be completed. The degree work will be given by the granges at Columbus, Clifty, Fall Creek and Tri-County Grange. The sixth degree will be conferred by the state officers.

Notice Home Department.

CLAIMED PURDUE APPROVED REMEDY

Stranger Giving Name of Smith is Wanted by the Authorities in Bartholomew County.

BELIEVED TO HAVE COME HERE

Farmer Trades Two Chickens for Quart of Fluid and Sends Sample to Chemist.

Bartholomew county officials would like to know the whereabouts of a stranger who designated himself by the very unusual name of Smith and is alleged to have misrepresented a mixture which he sold as a hog cholera remedy. He is reported to have come to Seymour and is supposed to be canvassing the farm houses in Jackson county for his remedy. Smith is alleged to have told the farmers in part of Brown county and the edge of Bartholomew county that his remedy was made at Purdue University and the prescription used is the result of years of experimenting and research. The bottles were not labeled.

According to reports which have come here today, Smith was not particular about selling his remedy at any standard price. At one farm house in Bartholomew county he is alleged to have sold or rather traded a quart for two chickens. It is stated that he told farmers there that the mixture was an excellent remedy for chickens as well as hogs.

One farmer who bought the remedy sent a sample of the compound to Purdue and asked if it was approved by them. He also took a bottle to County Agent Johnson of Bartholomew county, and asked him to pass judgment upon it. While he was talking to the county agent, a telephone call came from Dr. Clark, of the serum department at Purdue, asking that Smith be arrested.

The Purdue chemist said that the University had never put out any remedy like that contained in the sample bottle sent to him and that Purdue knew nothing about it. The liquid is about the same color as grape juice and has an odor similar to sassafras. The county agent at Columbus was unable to say just what it contained but feels assured that it is not worth much for curing hog cholera.

Smith is alleged to have sold a large quantity of the mixture in both Brown county and Bartholomew county. He worked there last week, but the attention of the county agent was not called to the remedy until Saturday afternoon. Smith is reported to have told persons that he was going to Seymour and expected to sell his remedy in this county.

So far as known no one in Jackson county has purchased a bottle of the fluid from Smith. If he came here his presence has not yet been reported to the local authorities.

BERLIN REPLY HAS NOT REACHED GERMAN EMBASSY

Specific Charges Must be Filed by State Department Against Embassy Attachees.

By United Press.

Washington, December 6.—Germany will not recall Capt. Von Papen and Capt. Boy-Ed unless the state department states the specific charges against the men and arranges for their safe conduct, an embassy official said today.

"The two attachees, like all of us, are hoping to leave the country where we see ourselves branded as criminals in the newspapers every morning," this official added.

The Berlin reply has not yet reached the German embassy.

CONGRESS OPENS FOR LONG GRIND

Members in Both Branches Sobered
By Thought of Important Questions Ahead.

MARSHALL IS NOT PRESENT

In Absence of Vice-President, Secretary Baker Presides Over the Lower House.

By United Press.

Washington, December 6.—With the usual bustle and confusion, a torrent of bills and resolutions, the machinery of congress was put in action today. The routine betrayed no surface indications of important legislation that will affect the nation's domestic problems or international relations.

Champ Clark was elected speaker of the house, 221 to 194. In accepting the speakership Clark predicted that on account of increased legislation perpetual sessions of congress are in sight for the near future. The submission of appropriations totaling one and a quarter billion dollars hinted at the tremendous program facing congress. Preparedness as the dominant issue was emphasized.

Senators and representatives alike conceded its preeminence.

Members thought the administration's preparedness program would be changed. Opposition to the program was increasing. The senate was in session only forty minutes. No bills were introduced.

Senator Clark was reelected president pro-tem. The house proceedings required several hours because of the long roll call and the administration of oaths to many members. Preparedness and war measures galore were in the flood of bills introduced in the house. Government construction of munition plants was proposed by many.

Resting upon the legislative program of the new congress today was the shadow of national and world politics. Tomorrow the administration's program will be outlined personally by President Wilson when he reads his opening message at the joint session. Its known big, outstanding features are: National Defense, Revenue, War Measures and Government Ship Purchase.

There is a mass of other legislation comprising the largest, longest and most important program of a decade. Since adjournment of the sixty-third congress last March a score of new and vital questions have arisen in addition to many left over. Continuation of this session well into next summer is predicted by veteran legislators.

There were the usual mammoth crowds in both senate and house galleries, representing the eyes of a hundred million Americans. Today's actual business was confined to the routine of swearing in new members, organization of both houses and notification of the President of the new legislative epoch.

As the gavel fell at the stroke of 12:00 at both ends of the capitol, officials and spectators were sobered by the gigantic tasks looming ahead. In the absence of Vice President

WOMAN'S HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY HELD SERVICE

Program of Reading and Song Given at the First M. E. Church Sunday Night.

The service at the First M. E. church Sunday night was in charge of the Woman's Home Missionary Society and a special program was arranged by the members. This organization has charge of the service on one Sunday night each year when an opportunity is given to show what is being done for Home Missions. A special collection is taken and is used to defray the expenses of a student in a Missionary College in Pennsylvania. The local society defrays the expenses of one student.

The service Sunday night was the story of what one physician has done in Newfoundland and Labrador. Mrs. L. M. Mains read the story which was interspersed with songs by a special choir. Mrs. F. A. Steele gave the evening prayer and Mrs. J. W. Conner read the scripture lesson. After the close of the program short remarks were made by Pastor J. H. Carnes who appealed to the audience for a liberal contribution for this work. Mrs. W. H. Russell, president of the society, had charge of the service.

GOVERNOR RALSTON IS MENTIONED AS CANDIDATE

Sentiment Among Democrats that He Take Marshall's Place on Democratic Ticket.

By United Press.

Washington, December 6.—Talk of displacing Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall on the 1916 Democratic ticket has stirred a movement in Indiana for the nomination of Governor Ralston for vice-president according to National Committeeman Thomas Taggart here today for the meeting of the committee.

"The stories about the possibility for a new candidate for vice-president have stirred up a lot of sentiment in Indiana for Ralston that may come to something," said Taggart. "So far as the presidency is concerned Wilson will be renominated and reelected. Indiana Republicans will support Fairbank for president."

GOOD HIGHWAYS AND PROSPERITY

Better Roads Mean Better Times For Ruralists.

SAVING IN TRANSPORTATION

The Old Order Has Changed From the Slow Going Oxcart, Tolling Over the Worst Kind of Roads, to the Speedy Automobile and Motor Truck—Farming Communities Benefited.

Within the memory of many of us the only way of traveling in various sections of the country was by means of ox teams over the worst kind of roads, says H. Colin Campbell in Hoard's Dairyman. The country producer delivered his crops at some river point where water transportation conveyed them to the nearest market. Cattle were driven for long distances over all kinds of roads. But the stock grower and farmer came to realize that this method of reaching the consumer was too costly and that their time and effort are valuable and should be economized as much as any other element of cost. The low going ox team has given way to the speedy automobile and motor truck. The railroad has in many cases relieved the farmer of his long and dangerous trips to shipping points, yet in many places the long, unimproved muddy road prevails.

Statistics show that 60 per cent of the automobiles manufactured recently have found their way to the farm; hence the rural dweller has not only been given the opportunity, but has developed a greater desire, to travel than ever before. Moreover, he has seen good roads, and evidence is real to him that a community so favored is one to prosper.

There is a direct relationship between good roads and the general prosperity of any community. Proof of this is obtainable wherever modern roads have been constructed. On the National pike, that old cross country highway which was begun by the government in 1806 and that is now being rehabilitated, there stand monuments that point to a local development that followed the construction of this now historic road. In localities where highways have been improved, where first class roads have been built and well maintained, where highway travel has been made comfortable and pleasurable, there is evidence of a constant increase in population, land values and local improvements.

One of the most recent proofs of this statement comes from Ohio, where highway enthusiasts point to the fact that those counties where roads have not been improved have lost population, while, on the other hand, the counties that have modernized their highways have increased their population and land values have risen. Another evidence of the increased prosperity that follows good roads has been furnished by some investigations conducted by the United States department of agriculture of road work in Virginia. Conditions in Spotsylvania county were studied with particular care. The results were surprising. In 1909 the county voted $100,000 to improve forty miles of road. Two years after completing this work the railroad shipped from Fredericksburg, the county seat, during a period of twelve months 71,000 tons of the products of the soil hauled over the improved highways to that town. Before improvement had become a fact the total was only 40,000 tons annually. In other words, the products of the soil had increased more than 45 per cent.

CONVICT ROAD WORK.

Has Passed Into a Period of Successful Accomplishment.

"The use of convicts on the public roads has passed through the period of hysterical wrangle into a period of actually successful accomplishment and almost universal acceptance," said E. Stag Whitin, professor of a new course in practical penal problems at Columbia university.

Dr. Whitin holds that the underlying motive in convict road building must be to secure the greatest efficiency for the state out of its possessions. Both the convicts and the roads are property of the state, and the working of convicts upon the roads should eliminate many elements of waste in the administration of road and prison departments.

"The efficiency of the convict on the road gang," he continued, "differs greatly in different gangs. There is no doubt in my mind that the application of the efficiency records in use at the present time in the Wisconsin road camps for free labor will tend even more perceptibly to raise the efficiency of convict labor."

"Incentive must be created before good work can be produced. Coop any of us up in a stuffy, insanitary jail for several months, arraign us for trial amid the excitement of what we misname as justice and then take a few months of breaking our spirit in prison surroundings and there is little likelihood that the thing we call ginger will be very apparent. The great need is for the foreman of a convict road gang to throw his shoulder to the task and inspire his gang with the desire to be like him. The problem lies in securing such men as foremen of the road gangs."

CHRISTMAS CANDIES.

Four Picked Recipes For Favorite Holiday Candies.

Pinoche.—Two and one-half cupsful of brown sugar, one-half cupful of cream, butter the size of an egg, one-half cupful of chopped walnuts, one-half cupful of chopped almonds, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Boil the sugar, cream and butter together twenty minutes; add the nuts and vanilla and beat well. When smooth and creamy pour into buttered tins. When cool cut in squares.

Chocolate Squares.—One cupful of sugar, one-quarter cake of chocolate, one-half cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of milk, one-half cupful of butter. Mix this all together and boil it twenty minutes; cool it a very little and add one teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour in pans and, when cool, mark off in squares.

Nut Creams.—Three cupfuls of light brown sugar, whites of two eggs, one cupful of boiling water, one cupful of chopped nuts, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Boil the sugar and water, stirring and beating till the sugar is all dissolved; then let it boil without stirring till it spins a thread. Remove from the fire and let it stand on the table for just a moment, to be sure it has stopped boiling; then pour it over the stiff whites of the eggs, beating with a wire beater all the time; put in the vanilla while you are beating. When it is creamy and getting stiff add the nuts, stir well and spread on buttered paper. If you prefer do not use vanilla, but almond flavoring, and add almonds instead of other nuts.

Candied Orange Peel.—Peel of three oranges, water and sugar. Cut the orange peel into strips one-eighth inch wide and of as even length as possible. Put into a saucepan, cover with cold water and bring slowly to boiling point. Add fresh water, bring to the boiling point again and repeat the process four times. Now make a syrup, using proportionately one pound of sugar to one cupful of water. Place the cooked orange peel in this and simmer slowly until the syrup is almost entirely absorbed. Cool and roll the strips in granulated sugar. The same process can be employed with lemon rind or grapefruit rind. A mixture of all three in a box makes a very acceptable little holiday gift.

Neighborliness.

Be interested in your neighbor, but not curious.

Borrow not and then you may not be asked to lend.

Respect your neighbor's line full of clean clothes and do not select her wash day for the beating of your rugs.

It is said walls have ears. Therefore speak low if you would keep your affairs private.

Don't consider your neighbor's house a stopping-in place to enter without knocking.

Don't start a quarrel over your neighbor's children, but preserve friendliness.

Make your little girl use the soft pedal when practicing if there be sickness in your neighbor's house.

Neighborliness should be nothing more than a steady courtesy.

FARMER ON TRIAL FOR POISONING JERSEY COWS

Thomas A. Ruse, Dairyman Near Kokomo, Alleged to Have Given Stock Paris Green.

By United Press.

Kokomo, Ind., December 6.—Thomas A. Ruse, a farmer and dairyman, went to trial in circuit court here today, charged with poisoning six Jersey cows of the herd of Aaron Deardorff. The indictment against Ruse charges that he administered paris green to the cattle, mixing it in their food.

Deardorff's herd was poisoned June 20, last. The sudden death of the fine animals created a sensation. Deardorff set about at once to find the guilty parties. Considerable feeling was aroused and it was believed this might crop out in the trial. Ruse has been at liberty under $2,500 bond.

PLANS TO CONSOLIDATE DE PAUW AND MOORES HILL

Alumni of Latter College to Consider Plans for Combining Student Bodies.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, December 6.—When the alumni and former students of the Moores Hill college meet in their annual reunion tonight, at the Y. M. C. A., they may consider the tentative plans to consolidate Moores Hill with DePauw University. Committees have been appointed both at Moores Hill and DePauw to canvass the situation. They probably will meet a joint session some time this month.

Mississippi Steamboating.

The steamboat age on the Mississippi began about 1821 and flourished for fifty years. As early as 1834 the number of steamboats on the Mississippi and its tributaries is estimated at 230, and in 1842 there were 450 vessels, with a value of $25,000,000. But the golden era was from 1848 till the war. Never did the valley and steamboating prosper more than then. Thousands of bales of cotton were annually shipped to southern markets, and the wharfs of St. Louis and Memphis and Vicksburg and other large ports were stacked with piles of merchandise and lined with scores of steamers.—Travel Magazine.

Desert Gems.

In 1889 a hunter in the northwest of New South Wales wounded a kangaroo. The animal went off through the mulga and the salt bush at a pace too fast for the hunter to follow and was soon out of sight. The hunter was a bushman and did not despair. He followed the blood trail, hopeful of a short search and a speedy bag. At one point of the pursuit it may be that the trail grew faint and necessitated a closer inspection. Anyway the hunter stooped and picked up a piece of stone. This he examined. The red spot was not on it; it was in it. It was not blood that he saw; it was opal. Such was the beginning of the White Cliffs opal fields.

In Hearing.

They stood upon the crest of the mountain and gazed off through the purple distances.

"Darling," he whispered, bending closer, "give me a kiss—just one!"

"No, Clarence," she answered timidly; "some one will hear us. There may be other ears around."

"Other ears! Why should you think so, dearest?"

"Oh, because I have so often heard of mountaineers I thought perhaps there might be some around, and—"

But just then there was a mighty crash. A mountain goat had heard the awful pun and jumped over the cliff.—London Tatler.

What Made Her Pounce.

Mrs. Bosbyshell heard that her ebony hued cook, the pride and joy of the kitchen, was about to take another plunge into the matrimonial sea. So she decided to ascertain the truth of the report. "Mirandy," she said, "I hear it rumored that you are going to be married again, this time to Joe."

"No'm, I ain't gwine git mahried ag'in, Miss Lucy," replied Mirandy. "I kinda like Joe, but I ain't gwine mahry him."

"What's the trouble?" asked Mrs. Bosbyshell. "Ain't no trouble, Miss Lucy," said Mirandy, "but yo' see I done been mahried three times already, an', to tell yo' de truth, I'm gittin' mighty tiared payin' out good money to dem undahakuba."

CASE OF SIX "LIFERS" TAKEN UP BY PARDON BOARD

John Fenninger, Aged Sixty-five, Wants Freedom After Term of Twelve Years.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, December 6.—When the state pardon board began its quarterly grind today it prepared during the four day session to take up the case of six "lifers."

The life ters prisoners whose cases will be heard are: William Walker, sentenced from Allen county for wife murder; John Fenninger, sentenced from Vanderburg county for wife murder; Oliver Bradley, sentenced from Boone county; William Hamilton, colored, sentenced from Marion county for killing a colored woman; George Stroud, sentenced from Madison county for killing Joseph Yades, a prize fighter; and Anthony Miller, sentenced from Delaware county for killing his wife while drunk.

The plea of Fenninger is expected to be centered about his advanced age. He is sixty-five years old. He shot his wife following a quarrel. He shot himself in the mouth but recovered. That was twelve years ago. He had grown children at that time.

Walker was sentenced in 1912. Mrs. Walker's body was found buried in the rear of her home. Walker confessed several months after the murder and pointed out the grave. Previously he had explained that she ran away and he even filed suit for desertion. The murder was precipitated by Mrs. Walker's association with other men, and the "unwritten law" will be the basis of the plea for Walker.

Thirteen new cases have been filed before the board.

TEACHERS' PENSION BILL DISCUSSED AT MEETING

Richmond School Board Reported to be Opposed to Provisions of Law.

By United Press.

Richmond, Ind., December 6.—A public meeting was held here today in the town hall to discuss the teachers' pension bill. Much interest has been worked up for this meeting for it is said the school board members are not favorable to the law in its present form. They believe that it will prove burdensome to the city. The history here is that within a few years the school board will be compelled to raise the tax rate to the limit to keep the pensions fund at the required height.

AFTER GRIPPE.

Mrs. Findley Made Strong by Vinol.

Severy, Kans.—"The Grippe left me in a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I was too weak to do my housework and could not sleep. After trying different medicines without benefit Vinol restored my health, strength and appetite. Vinol is a grand medicine and every weak, nervous, run-down woman should take it."—Mrs. Geo. Findley.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, and builds up natural strength and energy.

Asks Early Peace.

CANDIDATES WILL FILE PAPERS IN THIRTY DAYS

Petitions for Governor, U. S. Senator, President and Vice-President Must be in Soon.

Within the next thirty days the men who expect to run for Governor and United States senator and who will seek the support of the Indiana delegation as candidates for President and Vice-President must file their petitions to have their names placed on the ticket at the primary.

This is according to a compulsory provision of the primary election law, the constitutionally of which now is at issue in the Supreme Court. This tribunal is not expected to reach a decision before the first of February, so the candidates will have no alternative but to obey the law.

There is almost a consensus of opinion that the Supreme Court will sustain most of the law, so that a primary may be held on March 7. The list of candidates for whom petitions are expected to be filed follows:

Republican
For Governor:
James P. Goodrich, of Winchester.
Warren T. McCray, of Kentland.
Charles A. Carlisle, of South Bend.
Mayor R. O. Johnson, of Gary.
Quincy A. Myers, of Logansport.
For United States senator:
James E. Watson, of Rushville.
Hugh Th. Miller, of Columbus.
Arthur R. Robinson and William M. Taylor, of Indianapolis.
Walter Olds, of Fort Wayne.

Democratic.
For Governor:
Representative John A. M. Adair, of Portland.

James S. Risk, of Lafayette.
Senator Fred Vannups, of Anderson (possibly).

For United States senator:
John W. Kern, of Indianapolis.

The Republicans will file a petition to have the name of Charles Warren Fairbanks placed on the ticket as a candidate for President unless he objects. Up to the present he has not permitted any public work in his interest. The filing of the petition will bring him out as an avowed candidate. While the Indiana delegates could vote for him even if he did not go before the primaries they would not be found to do so. Under the law the presidential candidate receiving a majority of the votes in the primary shall have the support of the delegation until such a time as it is evident that he can not be nominated.

The Indiana Democrats will have a chance to show in the primary how far they will go to support Vice-President Marshall for renomination, here are reports from various parts of the country that a new vice presidential candidate will be urged by certain Democrats. Marshall has said that he will not seek the nomination, but that he would accept.

If the Indiana Democrats are anxious about his future it is believed that they will file a petition in his behalf whether he asks them to or not. There also is speculation whether the Indiana Democrats will file a petition to have the name of President Wilson voted on in the primary. This matter assumes national interest, since Indiana is to hold the first presidential primary of 1916.

Mrs. Clyde Martin, came from Vallonia this morning to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hargitt, and will leave Tuesday for Edingburg, Ill., to join Mr. Martin. They will make their home there.

Hoosier History in Tabloid.

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

INDIANA IN EMERGENCY.
Following the union reserves of 1862, President Lincoln issued a call for 300,000 troops. This, with a confederate attack on Kentucky roused Gov. Morton to extraordinary activity. Mustering proceeded day and night. Within four days 14,000 men were organized, equipped and sent to the front, exultantly declared the Indianapolis Journal. In the absence of funds for bounties and advance pay, Morton is said to have raised $5,000,000 on his personal credit. So surprisingly fast were the troops sent from Indiana that a Kentuckian is said to have exclaimed: "If you want soldiers from Indiana all you have to do is to take some blue cloth and brass buttons, throw them into a hopper, put Morton at the crank, and they will come out a regiment."

Obituary.

John Fitzgibbon was born at Fort Ritner, Indiana, July 2, 1863 and spent his whole life in his native state.

At an early age he entered the railroad service as telegraph operator and made and leaves a host of friends among the railroad men. He also engaged in farming, and was an esteemed citizen in this community. In infancy he was baptized and always cherished and followed the ideals of the blessed Master. December 6, 1899 he was united in marriage to Miss Nellie G. Turley. This union was blessed with one daughter, Virginia Rose.

The Master called him home November 22, 1915 and he found father and brother, Edward, there to welcome him. His aged mother tarries here yet a little while before going to join him. His wife and daughter and two brothers abide in the earth, cherishing his memory as a sweet benediction.

HENRY LANE WILSON HEADS PEACE LEAGUE IN INDIANA

Accepts Invitation of Former President Taft to Take Charge of Organization.

Henry Lane Wilson has accepted an invitation from former President William Howard Taft, as president of the League to Enforce Peace, to become the temporary chairman of that organization in Indiana. Organization work in all the states in the Union is to be begun soon. The temporary chairman appointed in each state will call a meeting of those charter members who have signified their willingness to the national organization to become active workers, and Mr. Wilson expects to formulate soon his plans for this meeting. The League to Enforce Peace was organized June 17 in Independence Hall at Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Taft was elected president, and a platform was adopted in which the definite work of the league was defined. The most important paragraph of this declaration, as prepared by A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, provided that all nations shall unite their military forces to require any nation, before going to war, to submit all questions to an international court or to a council of conciliation.

In undertaking the work in the United States it is proposed to obtain political recognition from all parties and in state legislatures and Congress.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES.

That women are holding many executive positions is shown by the recent report of the department of interior. The bulletin gives special reference to the administration of colleges and other institutions of learning and states that of the twelve thousand important places in this county 2,500 of them are occupied by women.

The report has interesting phases and is as follows:—

Of the 12,000 conspicuous positions, largely of an administrative character, listed in the 1915-16 Educational Directory, 2,500 are held by women. There are women who are college presidents, State superintendents of public instruction, county superintendents, directors of industrial training, heads of departments of education in colleges and universities, directors of schools and affiliated and exceptional children, and librarians.

Twenty-four of the 622 colleges and universities listed in the directory are presided over by women. Of the nearly 3,000 county superintendents in the country, 508 are women. The tendency to fill this position with women is almost wholly confined to the West. One State, Montana, has not one man as county superintendent. Wyoming has only two. Kentucky is the only southern state that utilizes women in this office; the state has twenty-six women as county superintendents. On the other hand, there are only twenty-six women city superintendents in a total of over 2,000.

Seventy institutions for the blind are listed in the directory. Of these fifteen are directed by women. Of the seventy-five state schools for the deaf, ten are under the leadership of women; and of the twenty-two private institutions of the same character, sixteen have women superintendents. Of the thirty-one private institutions for the feeble-minded, twenty are under supervision of women.

Fourteen out of eighty-six directors of industrial schools are women, and forty-eight of the 200 schools of art are in charge of women. Women have almost a monopoly of library positions. Out of 1,300 public and society libraries given in the directory women supervise 1,075.

The Government Bureau of Education itself exemplifies the call for women in executive educational positions; eleven of the thirty-three bureau officials listed in the directory are women.

With the opening of Congress, the Mexican situation, foreign affairs, and his approaching marriage, President Wilson will have a busy December.

Keeping Stocks Down

Retailers are interested in keeping stocks down. The faster they make their money turn the better the net profits. That is why the retailer should and usually does take a keen interest in products advertised in his home newspaper.

The newspaper advertising insures a definite, localized, public interest that means sales for him.

It is only business for the retailers to try and get the full selling advantage of the advertising.

It is only common sense for him to show the goods in the window and get as many sales as he can.

This co-operation makes the merchandise move and keeps his money turning.

Marshall, Secretary Baker presided in the senate and South Trimble, house clerk, in the lower body pending Speaker Clark's election. After the routine tasks both bodies adjourned until tomorrow to await the President's message, according to ancient and legal precedent.

As complemented today, the result of congressional elections in November, 1914, the democratic majority in the senate was increased from 13 to 16. In the house it was reduced from 143 to 25. The new senate lineup today was: democrats, 56; republicans, 40. The new house: democrats, 229; republicans, 196; progressives, 7; socialists, 1; independents, 1. The last house had 286 democrats, 125 republicans, 17 progressives and 1 independent. For the first time since the 62nd congress the socialist party was again represented today, Meyer London, of New York, being the member.

Re-election of President Wilson and continued Democratic control of the nation's destinies was conceded by most legislators to hang upon the results of this session. Political flavor was added to the day by the presence in Washington of the Democratic National committee, which meets tomorrow to decide the time and place of the 1916 democratic national convention. A week later the Republican National committee meets here for the same purpose. The reconvening of congress was heralded among all party leaders as marking the opening of the 1916 political campaign.

Both legislative and political interest centered in the administration's billion-dollar national defence program. Whether democratic opposition would defeat the President's plans and also cause a breach in democratic solidarity for the next campaign, caused much discussion. Chairmen of the naval and military committees had the bills practically drafted and ready for early introduction.

Presentation to congress today of the annual appropriation estimates insured another billion dollar congress. Increased expenditures for the navy and army preparedness program bulged the requests.

Unusual spectacular features of today's opening ceremonies offset the undertone of profundity. Woman suffrage workers stormed the capitol. Galleries were ablaze with yellow pennants. In corridors and offices, workers buttonholed congressmen. The return to public life today of many republican political warhorses was another feature. Among those who came back were: Uncle Joe Cannon, Nick Longworth, Cy. Sulloway of New Hampshire, Senator Curtis of Kansas, and Representatives Hill of Connecticut, McKinley, Sterling and Rodenberg of Illinois, and Loud of Michigan.

RALSTON SAYS HE HAS NO DESIRE TO MAKE THE RACE

Flutter of Excitement at State House Following Word of Taggart's Interview.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, December 6.—There was a flutter of excitement around the state house today because of Thomas Taggart's Washington interview indicating that Governor Ralston might displace Vice-President Marshal as Wilson's running mate. All the boys said, "It's news to us."

Former Speaker of the Indiana House Bedwell voiced the sentiment in democratic circles when he said, "Thomas Taggart wouldn't have said that unless he wanted to start something." Others were of the opinion that Taggart might have been misquoted and that he did not say as much as is credited to him.

Governor Ralston said: "I have asserted several times," he said, "that I desire to retire to private life after my term as governor expires. I have no designs on any office."

SEVEN "RELIEF" SUITS ARE SETTLED BY THE COMPANY

A. C. Branaman, Attorney for Plaintiffs, in Receipt of Money for Settlement.

A. C. Branaman, a local attorney, today received seven checks from the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad Company in settlement of as many suits which he had filed against the relief organization of that company. Each suit was filed by former employees who asked the return of wages which were withheld each month as dues for the relief association. Quite a number of other suits of this character are pending in Jackson county and it is expected that most of these will be settled out of court if possible. The Indiana supreme and appellate courts have both held that the bylaws of the association are a violation of the Indiana laws. The first case testing the sections was filed in this county by local attorneys. Since that time scores of cases have been filed in other counties.

ALLIES HOLD ON IN BALKANS

Check On-Rush of Bulgarians In South.

ARE VEILED IN MYSTERY

Actual Status of Operations Hidden by Rigid Censorship—Anglo-French Strongly Intrenched Along Their Line.

London, Dec. 6.—The Serbian campaign proper having been brought to a conclusion, interest in the Balkan operations now centers upon the fate of the Franco-British forces in the south of the invaded little kingdom and in the strip of Bulgarian soil held by the allies.

So rigid is the censorship in Salonica, the allies' base, that the actual status of these operations is veiled in the mystery. An official statement issued by the French war office, however, indicates that the allied troops are continuing to hold their own against the onrush of the Bulgarians, sweeping southward and to the southeast since the fall of Monastir.

It is also evident that the preparations in the southern theater in the Balkans have been reduced chiefly to local fighting. The allies are believed to be strongly intrenched along their entire line.

Two attempts by the Bulgarians to cross the Cerna river were frustrated by the French artillery fire and their infantry. Determined attacks of the allied positions near Kosturino also were repulsed. The fall of Monastir is officially admitted.

Further progress in the Austro-German invasion of Montenegro is reported by the German war office. At two places, the German statement shows, the remnants of the Serbian army aided by Montenegrins are still fighting on their own soil. This is northeastward of Imeko, which lies on the Serbo-Montenegrin border, and Djama mountains, in southwestern Serbia.

Unusual calm prevails on the various fronts, even the Italians apparently slackening their offensive, probably in preparation for the next phase, which they hope will place Gorizia in their hands with other commanding positions on which the Austrian hold has weakened during the last few weeks of heavy fighting.

TO PREPARE MEDAL FOR CENTENNIAL

Indiana History Study Urged In Schools.

Indianapolis, Dec. 6.—The Indiana Historical commission, meeting here, has invited Miss Janet Scudder, a prominent Indiana artist and designer with a studio in New York, to design a medal for use in connection with the celebration of Indiana's centennial next year. The design will be suggestive of Indiana's development from the pioneer days to the present time.

The commission considered it appropriate to engage Miss Scudder to make the design for the medal not only because of her prominence as an artist, but because she is Hoosier born.

Members of the commission accepted an invitation to go to Vincennes to attend the celebration of the centennial of Indiana's first territorial capital. The celebration is to be held Dec. 9, 10 and 11.

Stanley Coulter, a member of the state forestry board, and William Watson Woolen, nature lover, appealed to the commission to give emphasis to the importance of preserving natural beauty spots of the state.

The commission appointed a committee to ask the state board of education to incorporate approximately sixty pages of Indiana history in various text-books which may be used hereafter in the public schools. Those named on the committee were Herbert Briggs, Terre Haute; Mayor J. O. Batchelor, Marion; F. P. Foster, Anderson; L. N. Hines, Crawfordsville, and T. A. Mott, Seymour.

W. C. Langdon of New York, state pageant master, and others addressed the centennial county chairmen at a meeting in the senate chamber at the statehouse. Mr. Langdon told of tentative plans he has made for pageantry in the state.

NEW CONGRESS IS NOW OPENED

Lively Session Foreshadowed by Events.

WILSON'S MESSAGE TUESDAY

Probably First Serious Work of the Session Will Be to Re-Enact the War Emergency Revenue Act—Many New Faces Present.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Everything was in readiness for the assembling of the sixty-fourth congress at noon today. The new congress came into being under conditions that seem to foreshadow one of the liveliest sessions in many years.

Today's proceedings were of a perfunctory character. The senate remained in session for only a few minutes while the house was engrossed in re-electing Champ Clark as speaker and swearing in its members.

The real opening of the congress will be held on Tuesday, when President Wilson will read his message to the houses assembled in joint session.

Of the 434 members of the house sworn in 229 are Democrats; 197 Republicans; 6 Progressives; 1 Independent and 1 Socialist. Democratic majority, 24; plurality over Republicans, 32.

The senate will have 56 Democrats and 40 Republicans, giving the dominant party a majority of 16.

Of the 140 new house members ninety-six are Republicans. Among new members there are forty Democrats, three Progressives and one Socialist. While the Democrats lost strength in the house, the last election increased their majority in the senate from ten to sixteen.

Twenty-two of the members sworn in served in previous houses. Among the notable comebacks, whose faces again appeared in the halls of congress are Uncle Joe Cannon, Nick Longworth of Ohio, Ebenezer Hill of Connecticut, William S. Bennett of New York, G. E. Foss of Illinois, Cyrus Sulloway of New Hampshire, McDermott of Illinois, who achieved more or less fame in the Mulhall investigation and Page of West Virginia.

The Progressive strength in the house has dropped from seventeen to six members. This party has disappeared from the senate.

Nine new senators took seats in that body. They are: Underwood of Alabama, Broussard of Louisiana, James D. Phelan of California, Charles Curtis of Kansas, J. C. W. Beckman of Kentucky, Warren G. Harding of Ohio, James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, Edwin S. Johnson of South Dakota, and Paul O. Husting of Wisconsin.

Senators Curtis, Wadsworth and Harding are Republicans, the others are Democrats. Senators Underwood and Broussard served in the house until elected as senators. Senator Curtis is a member of that body, succeeding to the vacancy created by the retirement of Joseph L. Bristow to private life.

If present plans are carried out the first serious work of the session will be an attempt to re-enact the war emergency revenue act. This law will expire by limitation on Dec. 31.

Under the rules of the house an extension bill may be put through promptly. There may be some trouble over this legislation in the senate, but Democratic leaders are hopeful.

HELD FOR $28,000 FRAUD

George Homer Boyd Arrested on Charge of Larceny, Ind. Bank.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—A search for George Homer Boyd of Laporte, Ind., secretary of the Phee Engineering and Construction company of Chicago, ended prosaically when detectives arrested him at Ashland and Grace streets here just as rumor was promising an exciting chase to Honduras.

Boyd was taken into custody on complaint of Arthur A. Newton, vice president of the First National bank of Chicago, who charged that he obtained a loan of $28,000 from the bank by misrepresentations. The affairs of the engineering company are in litigation and Boyd has been sought for several days.

"I was acting for the company," said Boyd. "My position in making the loan was that of a messenger boy. I merely went at the instructions of the corporation, made the statements I was told to present and secured the loan. The entire amount was turned into the corporation coffers."

Investments.

A certain two men are possessed each of exactly $100,000.

One buys a modest house for $4,000, a modest business for $3,000 and sells the remainder of his money away against a rainy day.

The other puts his entire $100,000 into a motorcar and thereby acquires such credit that he can have a house worth $50,000 and becomes a partner in a business paying $100,000 a year.

GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Salandra Ministry Approved by the Italian Parliament.

Rome, Dec. 6.—The Italian parliament gave a vote of confidence to the Salandra ministry, the vote standing 405 in favor of the government to 48 against it. The dissenting votes were cast by the official Socialists, including a son-in-law of ex-Premier Biondelli, who has been opposed to the war with Austria from the first.

The vote was taken after a debate which was closed with a speech by Premier Salandra in which he reiterated his conviction that Italy and her allies would be victorious in the war.

"Everybody now realizes that war was inevitable," he said, "since, without war, Italy would have been ruined and would have lost her dignity and honor."

"Italy," the premier continued, "insists on her predominance in the Adriatic, irrespective of the rights of other peoples entitled to an outlet by that sea."

TELLS OF THE BRITISH ROUT

Turks Also Announce Capture of Tug Boat and Provision Ship.

Constantinople (via Berlin and London), Dec. 6.—The Turkish war office announces that the pursuit of the British force which was defeated at Otesiphon, while trying to reach Bagdad, continues, and that the British are retreating in disorder. It also tells of the capture of a tugboat and a provision and munition ship on the Tigris. The statement says:

"We are pursuing the enemy, who is retreating in disorder. We captured a tugboat and a vessel loaded with provisions and materials."

Heart Exposed by Shot.

Valparaiso, Ind., Dec. 6.—Tony Kaciak of Whiting was instantly killed near Chesterton by the accidental discharge of his shotgun, with which he tried to dislodge a rabbit from its burrow. The shot tore a hole in his left side, exposing the heart.

U. S. Flag Hoisted Over Serb Hospital

London, Dec. 6.—"The American flag was hoisted over the hospital in Monastir, where 300 wounded men were being attended by the American mission led by Dr. Forbes," says the Evening News in a dispatch from Florina, Greece.

Wilson to See Suffrage Delegates.

Washington, Dec. 6.—President Wilson has consented to receive 500 delegates to the convention here of the National American Woman Suffrage association Dec. 14.

WOUNDS HIS NEIGHBOR

Lock Shoots William York In Arm; Grand Jury to Investigate.

Martinsville, Ind., Dec. 6.—William Lock, living eight miles west of this city, shot his neighbor, William York, in the upper part of the left forearm, with a revolver. The wound is not serious.

According to reports received by the authorities here when York was passing the Lock home in a wagon, he saw Lock standing in his yard. York picked up a corn knife, it is alleged, and threatened Lock with personal injury. Lock then went into his house, obtained a revolver, and as York was coming toward him shot him in the arm. This is Lock's version of the affair. York has not yet made a statement.

Edward McCracken, prosecutor, states the matter will be taken up by the next grand jury.

Three Killed, Two Injured In Mine.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Three men were killed and two injured in a collision of cars in the mine of the Glenn Run company at Rush Run, O., ten miles north of here. The collision resulted in a heavy fall of slate, which buried the victims. The bodies have not been recovered. All the dead were foreigners.

Aviator Climbs Up to 12,136 Feet.

Pensacola, Fla., Dec. 6.—Announcement was made at the navy aero station here that Lieutenant R. C. Saufley, navy aviator, established a new world's altitude record for hydro-aeroplanes when he ascended 12,136 feet.

Centennial Plans Made.

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 6.—Tentative plans have been made here for a celebration in Greencastle next spring of the centennial of Indiana's statehood.

APPOINTS PEACE CHAIRMEN

Taft Selects Officials in Various States For League to Enforce Peace.

New York, Dec. 6.—Ex-President Taft has picked out a prominent man in each state to act as temporary chairman in a reorganization of the League to Enforce Peace. The scheme by which the league is to be reorganized is patterned after that of political parties and Mr. Taft has asked Job Hedges to act as chairman for New York state, Henry Lane Wilson for Indiana and McCreary for Kentucky.

One of the purposes of this next move, says Mr. Taft, is "to lay the foundation for securing action by our national authorities and their representatives looking to the establishment of the proposed league of nations in an international conference."

NEW CHINESE REVOLUTION

Rebels Sieze Warships and Open Fire on Other Vessels.

Shanghai, Dec. 6.—In a new revolutionary outbreak, a warship was seized and rebels opened fire on other warships and the arsenal. Several shots fell in the foreign concession. Heavy firing was heard and lasted for some time.

Girl Sees Father End Life.

Alexandria, Ind., Dec. 6.—Joshua Stroud, fifty-six years old, committed suicide here by firing a revolver bullet into his heart. He returned home after spending the afternoon in a saloon and committed the deed in the yard. A twelve-year-old daughter, looking out of a window, saw her father take his life.

Boils and Pimples Dangerous

S. S. S. Your Remedy

Standard For Fifty Years

Modern science has proven that boils and carbuncles, pimples and unsightly skin blotches, are the danger signals of diseased blood. Scaly skin and itching of Eczema, Scrofula, rashes—all skin diseases are aggravated by bad blood—it's the infected blood that's dangerous. Don't wait for the boils. If you have pimples and blotches, take instant action. Pimples tell you that your blood is filled with impurities. You must wash out your blood, strengthen and stimulate it to healthy action with Nature's own blood tonic, S. S. S. It is the standard blood purifier of the world. Don't use any drugs, don't use ointments and salves. S. S. S. reaches the blood, drives out the impurities. It makes healthy perspiration—the poison is literally sweated out through the skin. Boils, blotches, Eczema and the Scrofula indications disappear. It does what salves and lotions can never do—it goes to the very root of the trouble by reaching the blood. Your skin becomes clear and you soon feel the vigor of the return of perfect health. S. S. S. is purely vegetable. You can get it at any druggist's, but you must take S. S. S. Let us tell you about blood diseases. Write for book of facts, "What the Mirror Tells." If yours is a long standing case, write for expert advice to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

CHAPTER XVI. Ambrose Peale.

PEALE took up the refrain next and talked to Mr. Martin about advertising.

"But nowadays it isn't only people who have stoves to sell or tooth-brushes that are spending money on publicity," he began. "Banks are advertising for money, nations for immigrants, colleges for students, cities for citizens and churches for congregations, and you sit there thinking it doesn't pay to advertise."

"Six hundred and sixteen million dollars were spent last year in magazines and newspapers, billboards and electric signs," recited Mary.

"Bringing education and comfort and fun and luxury to the people of the United States," said Rodney. "It's romance, father, the romance of printing presses, of steel rails, of the wireless, of trains and competition, the romance of modern business, and it's all built on advertising. Why, advertising is the biggest thing in this country, and it's only just begun."

"Well," said Mr. Martin, "when you boys get through talking and you're flat broke and down and out come around and see me. I'll show you an old business that has a lot of money, that isn't radical and that manages to keep going without wasting a fortune in fool advertising."

"Then you won't let us get any soap?" asked Rodney.

"Risk my business reputation on a silly scheme like dollar soap? I should say not. You may be crazy, but I'm not."

"Yes, you are," said Mary, beginning to lose her temper.

"Oh, come on," said Peale impatiently. "What's the use of talking to a man whose brain is deaf?"

The old soap king only laughed.

And so to the accompaniment of his scornful chuckles the three dejectedly walked out. Poor Mary's mission had failed. In the street outside she could not help pouting a little, especially for Rodney's benefit, and she scolded Peale outright. She was sure she could have managed the old gentleman if she had been allowed to do it in her own intuitive woman's way, and she told both the boys so flatly. What was the use of spouting all those statistics? What they wanted was 45,000 cakes of soap, not 5,000 words of advertising talk. What impression had they made on the soap king? Not the slightest.

"Now, don't you be too sure," interrupted Ambrose. "Just let it sink in and rattle a bit and we'll see."

"Nonsense!" said Mary crossly. Poor Ambrose! He wouldn't have admitted it to anybody in the world, but for once in his life he was downcast and discouraged. His unflinching good nature was cloaked and veiled a little and no mistake. He was blue.

What was worse his blues lasted, off and on, this time for almost two weeks. As the criminal returns to the scene of his crime so Ambrose's spirit was drawn back to his old haunts of the show world again.

"Hello, Mr. Pe-e-e-e!"

He turned to see the "countess." They were in front of the City Square hotel, and she was headed for the revolving doors on Forty-second street. Peale gravitated at once to her side and jumped into the whirling compartment behind her.

"Well, cutie," he said as they dropped down together on a lounge in the crowded corridor. "what are you up to?"

"You're a grand little guy," said the countess agreeably; "I like you."

But all the time her eyes roved about the place as if she were looking for another man.

"How are you getting along now?" she went on. "As far as I'm concerned, trim everybody you can. You're there, Ambrose, you're there."

"But we're on the level," Peale assured her.

"So am I," said the countess.

"If you were I'd give you a job," laughed Peale.

"Me work on a job?" cried the countess.

"There's no excitement in that. Why, now every time I meet a cop I get a thrill."

"I know—I know; the dull life is dull," Peale agreed. "I wonder if I ought to marry you and reform you?"

"No, Ambrose," said the countess quite sincerely; "I wouldn't do such a thing to you as marry you. I could talk to you about your needing a loving, faithful wife, and maybe you do at that. But the trouble with me is I'd rather trim a guy out of a hundred than earn a thousand. So leave me lay, kid, leave me lay!"

At this moment Peale, following her gaze, saw what she was looking for, and apparently "it" was Ellery Clark. Ellery, in full evening war paint, was wandering up and down evidently looking for her.

"Shall I bring him over?" asked Peale.

"No," said the countess; "wait a moment. I want to talk to you a second about Ellery. He's kind of stuck on me," she added shyly.

"Say, I'm for you," broke in Peale, "but if you're aiming to trim Ellery I can't help you there; it'd be too easy."

"Easy! You don't know Ellery! He's wise all right," she protested.

"Say, I don't like Ellery," said Peale quickly, "but if you're planning to

"Do tell him I'm a real French dame."

maximize down the bridal path with him I won't stand for it."

"Oh, I wouldn't hitch up. No, Ambrose, you got me wrong," said the countess plaintively.

"What is the graft, then?" The countess looked at him with a great show of dignity.

"Say, Mr. Peale," she said, "don't you think I got some sense of decency? And, anyhow, I wouldn't go after Ellery. He'd be wise in a minute. No, sir, I stack up against men of my own size—ducks who think they're wise guys, like you and your young partner."

"Well, what is the idea with Ellery, then?" Peale asked uncomfortably.

"You may not like him," the countess began. "He does seem kind of a stuck up chap, but when you get to know him he's a nice kid. He's got a car, he loves to go to shows, he slips the head waiter $5, says, 'Bring us a good dinner and two bottles of 149'; he can sign checks anywhere and he's a grand little companion for a lonely dame like me. He looks forward to seeing me. He phones me every morning and just sticks around. He doesn't even try to hold my hand."

"Well, where do I come in?" Peale insisted.

"You're going to see him now," the countess said. "Just don't slip it to him I'm a grafter, will you? It'd bust up the whole thing. I'll play straight with him—just pals. You don't know how hard it is for girls like me. I never had a show. I ran away from home when I was a kid. I've been pretty up against it sometimes, and now this boy comes along and treats me fine. Is what I've done to other guys to butt in and queer me? Oh, Ambrose, don't bowl me out with Ellery!"

"Nix, nix!" said Peale, pulling out his handkerchief.

"Give me a chance to be on the square," went on the countess. "It ain't easy for a girl to fight it out just by herself, when she's all alone, no money, no friends and she's got to live—live on $5 a week in a back room looking out on a brick wall and cook over the gas. Food and clothes and live on $5 per! You got a lot for a good time, haven't you? That's what I had to do. Say, I was lonely sometimes. You've got to be pretty smart to steer straight. But I've done it—I've done it!"

With that she broke down and began to snivel.

"Now, see here, countess," said Peale kindly, patting her on the back. "Don't do that—don't, don't!" Then after a pause he added:

"Oh, quit it. Keep it for some poor boob who'll fall for it."

"Oh, Ambrose, don't talk like that," said the countess tearfully.

"Say, honest, it's foolish wasting it on me, kid," said Peale.

"Well, it's always worth trying once," said the girl, completely changing to a radiant smile.

"Sure it is," said Peale genially. "Why, you had me winging for a minute. But when you pulled that five a week gag I knew it was the antique phoney stuff."

"I learned it from a play. Great, isn't it? It always goes. But at that I'm on the level about Ellery. I just couldn't keep from drifting into dramatics. Do tell him I'm a real French dame."

"Absolutely," said Peale. "Hello, Peter Piccadilly," he added, as Ellery at last discovered them; "what brings you to the haunts of pleasure?"

He didn't wait for Ellery's answer, but promptly vacated the place at the girl's side and left them to each other and their fates.

In his present mood the meeting and the talk for all his chaff only strengthened the wings of his black butterflies. The sight of Ellery Clark completed his distaste with the whole sorry scheme of things, making him itch to remold it nearer to his heart's desire. Ellery Clark, that pinhead, went round with girls who trimmed him like the "countess," supplied with plenty of money by his dotting father, while Rodney and Mary had to slave and worry.

Drastic Action to Follow Teuton Activity.

WILL PROSECUTE PLOTTERS

United States Secret Service Reveals Activity of German Secret Service in Violating Neutrality and Conspiracy Laws—Evidence Ready.

New York, Dec. 6.—Agents of the government who have been most active in securing the evidence on which was based the demand for the recall of the German military and naval attaches, respectively, Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Papen, do not believe that the reasons actuating the United States in this matter will ever be made public.

It is felt that their removal from this country by Germany will follow in a very short time, and that no action will be taken by Germany to have the actual charges against the diplomatic officials made known.

Meanwhile, officials of the department of justice are busy preparing reports of evidence and documents gathered throughout the country on which will be based demands for the recall of many other German agents in America.

The conviction and sentence of the officials of the Hamburg-American line is regarded as the beginning of the prosecution of alleged offenders against the neutrality of the country as well as its conspiracy laws.

In connection with the case of the Hamburg-American line officials it was learned that one of the reports which has been forwarded to the state department and to the department of justice in Washington, deals with an incident which occurred after the indictment of the steamship officials last May. It will be recalled that soon after their indictment affidavits were produced tending to show that British and French agents in New York city had offended in like manner by supplying warships off Sandy Hook.

These affidavits were secured by a private detective agency from tugboat and lighter captains along the river front. The federal secret service agents, in the report which has been sent to Washington, assert they have established that $25,000 was appropriated by certain German officials in this country to secure these affidavits in order to bolster up a case against the allies such as had been made out against the Germans before the federal grand jury. The affidavit makers swore that they carried supplies to allied warships outside the three-mile limit.

In the investigation of another phase of the German activity in this country—plots to destroy munition plants and tie up exportation of war supplies for the allies—it was learned from federal officials in this city that the men higher up in the Pay case probably will never be apprehended because they succeeded in covering their tracks completely.

The department of justice agents and secret service men have been investigating for some time a young man, at present unidentified, who is connected with a prominent German company manufacturing high explosive containers.

The federal investigators also obtained some interesting facts from Gustav Stahl, the Lusitania affidavit signer, now in Atlanta prison, about the operations of a force of detectives under Captain Paul Koff, chief of the Hamburg-American line detectives and reputed head of the German secret service in this country.

Charge "Peace Council" Was Financed by German Government.

Washington, Dec. 6.—It is understood that the department soon will lay before the federal grand jury at New York, evidence intended to support a charge that labor's national "Peace Council" was financed by German agents, and that its propaganda was part and parcel of these pro-German movements which have had so many ramifications in the past several months.

It is said that among those whose names are likely to figure in the investigation are ex-Congressman H. R. Fowler of Illinois, Representative Buchanan of Illinois, David Lamar, "the wolf of Wall street," and Herman Schulteis, and Henry B. Martin. The "council" had been repudiated by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

WOMAN BATTLES WITH HUSBAND FOR LIFE

Makes Desperate Struggle to Prevent Being Drowned.

Danville, Ind., Dec. 6.—John Pritchett, age thirty-six, of this town, is dead of the effects of poison. After taking the poison he attempted to drown his wife, but was unsuccessful.

Pritchett and Miss Nellie Wood were married here about fifteen years ago, but did not live together happily. She sued for divorce in 1907, but later dismissed the suit. A few weeks ago she again applied for a divorce, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and that she had borne nine children in the last thirteen years. This case came to trial, and Judge Brill had taken it under advisement, when it also was dismissed by agreement of the husband and wife. Mrs. Pritchett, since that time, has been living with her mother, Mrs. John Brickert.

Pritchett telephoned his wife, saying he was going away and asked that she come to his home so he might turn over to her the deed to some property and give her money to care for the children. When she arrived at his home he asked her to come back and live with him. On her refusal he seized her and declared they would die together.

Then he dragged his wife to the brink of an abandoned well near the house, after a struggle which smashed the contents of the house up generally, and, drinking from a bottle of carbolic acid, attempted to drown his wife. Finally Mrs. Pritchett gained her release and escaping, gave an alarm. When people reached the place Pritchett was unconscious and dying.

U. S. Navy Experts Attend Demonstration at Edison Plant.

West Orange, N. J., Dec. 6.—Officers and electricians of the United States submarines and navy yards are being drilled in the theory, construction and operation of Thomas A. Edison's storage battery for undersea craft. A group of forty-three men of the navy were at the Edison plant here all last week, and another group will come this week.

Those here last week were under the command of Lieutenant R. C. Grady, of the submarine K-5. Thirteen of them were officers of the Brooklyn and Quincy, Mass., navy yards. Each day there was an illustrated lecture for them and this was followed by practical demonstration.

BOY SCOUT HEAD QUILTS

Ernest Thompson Seton Will Join Woodcraft League.

New York, Dec. 6.—Ernest Thompson Seton, woodsman, writer, artist and lecturer, and ex-chief scout of the Boy Scouts of America, says he had severed his relations with the Boy Scouts, and henceforth will devote his blue sky and open air propaganda to the Woodcraft league, an organization which includes woodcraft girls in its membership as well as boys.

Mr. Seton said that his resignation was due rather to a drifting away on the part of the Boy Scout movement from the original out-of-doors ideals of the organization than to any personal differences with the guiding spirit of the movement.

Protest Against Carnegie Plan.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 6.—Over the protest of representatives of the Central Labor union, the local board of school trustees voted to accept $12,000 from Andrew Carnegie to build a library building on the property of Garfield high school, in the north part of the city.

Thousands have this disease—and don't know it

You may be afflicted with that dread disease of the teeth, pyorrhea, and not be aware of it. It is the most general disease in the world! The germ which causes it inhabits every human mouth—your mouth, and is constantly trying to start its work of destruction there.

Don't wait until the advanced stages of the disease appear in the form of bleeding gums, tenderness in chewing and loose teeth. You can begin now to ward off these terrible results. Accept the advice dentists everywhere are giving, and take special precautions by using a local treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet this need for local treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sental Remedies Co., 504 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Copy of Bridgemen's Magazine Excluded as Evidence in Trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 6.—Attorneys for Mathew A. Schmidt, on trial for the murder of Charles Hagerty, one of twenty men killed when the Los Angeles Times building was blown up five years ago, obtained a ruling from the court barring from evidence a copy of the Bridgemen's Magazine, published by the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, which contained an offer of reward for the apprehension of bomb placers.

The magazine was of the issue of April, 1908, and contained an advertisement of the Wisconsin Bridge company, offering $500 reward for information leading to the conviction of the persons responsible for a bomb explosion at Clinton, Ia., in February, 1908.

Second Victim of Train Wreck Near Seymour, Ind., Badly Injured.

Seymour, Ind., Dec. 6.—A faulty wheel on a freight car of west-bound B. & S.-W. train No. 95 gave way near the entrance of the Willow valley tunnel, southwest of Seymour and five cars were dinged and demolished, one man being crushed to death and another so seriously injured that it is not believed he can recover.

Glen Blevins, thirty years old, Washington, Ind., was killed and A. W. Fields, thirty, was badly injured.

Blevins and Fields, it is said, were stealing a ride and were standing between two of the cars that were dinged. None of the crew, including Engineer James Snow and Conductor Louis Epstein, both of Seymour, was injured.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Frank Moran, Who Wants to Fight Jess Willard.

Frank Moran, heavyweight pugilist, who hopes to make a match with Jess Willard, conqueror of Jack Johnson, is a native of Cleveland and has just passed his twenty-eighth birthday. He regards Pittsburg as his home, for he was brought up there. After four years in the navy Frank returned to Pittsburg and for a time studied dentistry. While a student he played football and was regarded as one of the best tackles in that part of the country. He fought his first ring battle in 1910, in which he was outpointed in a six round bout by Fred Broad. Since then his career has been one of wanderings and variety. Frank has made two excursions across the ocean, two to Mexico and has fought in many states.

Moran's most important battles are: Gunboat Smith, lost, twenty rounds; Al Falzer, knockout, seven rounds; Luther McCarthy, no decision, ten rounds; Jack Johnson, lost, twenty rounds; Bombardier Wells, knockout, ten rounds, and his recent knockout of Jim Coffey in New York city.

Frank Moran is of the modern type of pugilist. He is one of the most intelligent boxers in the ring and is well educated. He is of gentlemanly appearance and demeanor and converses like a college graduate.

Georgia and Navy.

The University of Georgia will, without doubt, have baseball games with the Navy at Annapolis next spring, according to a recent statement. The Navy has asked for consideration of dates suggested, and they do not fit the schedule as now being made by Georgia for the baseball season, but other dates will be selected and the games most likely played. Georgia and the Navy are also likely to meet on the gridiron next fall in a game either in Athens or at Annapolis, according to the same statement.

Navy Crews to Row at Philadelphia.

The plan of the Naval Academy Athletic association to send crews to the American Henley regatta at Philadelphia in May of next year has been approved by Superintendent E. W. Lberle.

On several occasions the academy has had crews entered in this event, but this year it was found that the date was such that absence of the midshipmen from school could not be permitted. Next year the races will take place after the annual examinations.

New A. A. U. President.

George J. Turner of Baltimore, treasurer of the South Atlantic association and perhaps the best known man connected with amateur athletics in the south, was elected president of the Amateur Athletic union at the annual convention, held in New York city. He succeeds Alfred J. Lill, Jr., of Boston, who had served two years.

New Yearling Record.

A world's record for a yearling trotting filly was made recently at Lexington, Ky., at a meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association when a yearling bay filly by Prince Ansel—Hla Moko trotted a mile in 2:17½. The filly is owned by the Woodland Stock farm of Woodland, Cal.

Bantamweight Championship.

The twenty round bout for the bantamweight championship of the world between Kid Williams of Baltimore, the title holder, and Frankie Burns of Jersey City will be held at New Orleans Dec. 6. The weights will be 118 pounds, ringside. Ed Smith of Chicago will referee.

Detroit Gets Cup Races.

The gold cup races next year for the American speed boat championship will be held Sept. 2, 4 and 5 at Detroit. The dates were arranged at the annual meeting of the American Power Boat association.

SCIENCE—INVENTION.

Survey of Middle West.

A piece of work recently done by the United States coast and geodetic survey which is of special interest and value to the general public is the preparation of a "surveying backbone" for the middle west. This is an extensive, accurate survey which within its area will serve as a basis of all surveying and mapping. The survey of your own property may probably depend upon this backbone for a starting point. Even on your own land itself may be one of the many hundred permanently marked stations of this survey, a point which engineers might use to determine the location on the earth of your farm or your neighbor's. This triangulation extends across the states of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia, and the results, now available in published form, in special publication No. 30, give descriptions and the accurate latitudes and longitudes of all these points within this area. The book may be procured free of charge by addressing division of publications, department of commerce.

Dewar Vacuum Flasks.

There appears to be no good reason why American manufacturers of vacuum glassware should not extend their line to include Dewar vacuum flasks, which are extensively used for scientific purposes in this country. The bureau of standards of the department of commerce requires annually a considerable number of these flasks, which have always had to be imported specially. Other scientific bureaus of the United States government are large users thereof, and schools, colleges and other laboratories throughout the country form a market.

Dewar flasks are very similar to the vacuum bottles and others of like form which are at present made with entire success in this country. Those most used in scientific work are larger than vacuum bottles, and there is more of a demand for spherical flasks, while vacuum bottles are cylindrical; otherwise there is no distinction between the two lines of products.—Commerce Reports.

Device For Tilting Metal Ladle.

Tilting a ladle so that the molten metal will be poured in an even and smooth stream is an operation requiring much skill when done by the usual method, says Popular Mechanics. An ingenious device recently patented is designed to do this mechanically. The ladle rotates on fixed bearings, as shown, and is tilted by a cable attached to the back. The feature of the invention is that the cable passes over a cam which rotates at a uniform speed. As the cable is wound on the cam the speed of tilting gradually increases so that the rate of flow from the spout of the ladle is exactly the same at all stages of the process of emptying.

Naval Officers Capable Inventors.

The regular training of a naval officer tends to make him analytical, and in the ordinary course of his duties his time is well occupied in making regular use of what has been intrusted to his hands and maintaining it in a suitable state of efficiency. Yet within the service there are many men of exceptional creative and engineering capacity who if given but fair opportunity will produce inventions of the highest importance. Happily, in spite of all difficulties magnificent work is being steadily carried on under the direction of the various bureaus and at the various navy yards, under competent management, but lack of appropriation as well as the meagerness of facilities are still well recognized handicaps for insuring the maximum of achievement, and civilian aid seems essential to the best results.—Engineering Magazine.

Triumph of Civilian Engineers.

Every implement of modern warfare, from a battleship to an aeroplane and motor truck, is the creation of men who have devoted their lives to peaceful pursuits. It is, in truth, the inventors and engineers who have revolutionized industry, who have annihilated distance, who have made the world a neighborhood and will yet emancipate our people from poverty and all fear of dependence upon charity if we but prudently guard our free institutions, for men's minds are only beginning to awake to the infinite wealth producing power of automatic machinery and mechanical power.—Engineering Magazine.

An Automobile License Holder.

Almost all states require the driver of an automobile to have a license and to carry it at all times while driving, says Popular Mechanics. If this paper is carried in the pocket loosely it will soon become worn or possibly lost. The best way to carry the license is in the small holder used for pencils. Remove the pencil, make the license into a small roll and put it in the holder. Fasten the chain to the key ring, and the license will be ever ready and clean.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

ATTENDED GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mrs. G. H. Kamman and daughter, Martha, returned Sunday from Holland, where they attended the golden wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Meyer, which occurred Sunday, Nov. 30. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer are prominent in their home town and have a wide circle of friends. Mr. Meyer was born in Germany seventy-five years ago and came to America with his parents at the age of twelve years, his father dying a year later, at Huntington, where they first settled. They later moved to Holland, where they have since lived. Mr. Meyer is a carpenter and miller by trade, was an industrious young man and is still active in his old age.

Mrs. Meyer was born in Lawrence county, Ohio, seventy-one years ago. Nine children were born to them, five of whom are living, three daughters and one son, living in Holland Mrs. Kamman of this city.

About fifty guests were honored by invitations to the golden wedding anniversary and it was a delightful affair. The decorations were of gold and yellow flowers. The bride and groom received many beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer have often visited in Seymour and have a number of friends here, who also extend to them congratulations.

IN COLLEGE PLAY

Miss Katherine Kessler, of Seymour, Ind., deserves special mention because of the excellence with which she played the difficult part of the old woman, Nessa Teig, in the Sophomore production of "The Twig of Thorn," on Thanksgiving Eve. Miss Kessler is a member of the sophomore class of The Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio. Her part in this charming Irish fairy play was that of grandmother to the heroine, in the first act; and she supplied much of the humor of the act.

MISSIONARY TEA.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church, will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp with the Henry Roegge, S. Chestnut.

Mrs. H. C. Dannettell will have charge of devotions.

Roll Call: Names of Missionaries of Northwestern Branch.

A short Christmas program will be given. Topic: "Christmas Cheer in Other Lands," led by Mrs. Frank Gates. A solo will be given by Miss Mary Schmitt. Mystery Box led by Mrs. Adam Schmitt. Christmas offering will be taken. Visitors welcome.
